Discussion:

A review of the facts demonstrates the instant patent is not, and has never been, expired. To the extent any Office records have indicated the patent is expired, the records are hereby vacated.

The Office will schedule a refund of the $200 petition fee.

PTO records will be updated to indicate the patent has not expired.

As a courtesy, the Office will now discuss the payment of the 11.5 year maintenance fee.

Per the MPEP, when a reissue patent issues based on an original patent, maintenance fee payments should be made for the reissue patent based on the schedule established for the original patent. The MPEP states a maintenance fee does not have to be paid for subsequent reissue patents. MPEP 501 states, "No payment of additional maintenance fees is required for second or subsequent reissue patents, i.e., continuation or divisional reissues (see MPEP 1451), which are derived from a first reissue patent which has issued."

Unfortunately, the Office finance system, RAM, currently updates multiple reissue patents only if the payment is made in the most recent reissue patent to be issued. If petitioner complies with the MPEP, and the Office employee who process the fee fails to recognize the need to move the fee to the newest reissue patent in RAM, problems may arise. Therefore, the Office of Petitions strongly suggests petitioner pay the 11.5 year fee for Reissue Patent No. RE39,141. However, if a reissue patent based on Reissue Application No. 11/038,005 issues prior to payment of the 11.5 year maintenance fee, then the 11.5 year fee should be applied towards the new reissue patent.
